Dani Cagle has been an International Board Certified Lactation Consultant since 2004. She worked as an IBCLC in the hospital setting for over 12 years and helped lead her facility to achieve the Baby Friendly designation. She earned her Master's in Public Health from UNTHSC in 2016. Thanks to her advanced degree, Dani now works as the Breastfeeding Coordinator for the City of Dallas WIC program. She enjoys using this new platform to help breastfeeding become the norm for every new mother. She is the mother of 3 and lives in Waxahachie, Texas.
