“TxMRC: Technology Driven Seed Grant Funding: The Inside Story”

Come hear more about this unique seed grant opportunity open to UNT Health Science Center faculty through TxMRC, a research collaborative between UNTHSC, UT Arlington, UT Dallas, Texas Instruments and Texas Health Resources.

These $100K grants are designed to foster collaborative research through proof of concept grants for applied medical technology research within broad areas of interest to healthcare providers and allied industries. The total amount of funds available for this program is expected to be at least $750,000.
